Statement of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the USSR concerning the launching of missiles by Iraq against Israel

During the night of 17 to 18 January, Iraq launched missiles on sections of Tel Aviv, Haifa and some other Israeli urban centres.

There is absolutely no doubt that the aim of this operation was to try to convert the problem of Kuwait into a regional conflict and to make the war spread like a conflagration to the Middle East as a whole.

The Soviet Union has always taken a firm and unambiguous stand against such a development, particularly in the course of its contacts with the Iraqi authorities. We are convinced that it is impossible to resolve one problem by creating another and that it would be dangerous, above all for the peoples of the region itself, if this conflict were to develop into another, even wider and more complex conflict.

At this critical juncture, we make another appeal to the Iraqi authorities to show that they are realistic and understand that their actions, beginning with the occupation of Kuwait, can bring only death and destruction to the Iraqi people and further misfortune to the region as a whole. The leaders of the Arab States cannot fail to understand this, responsible as they are for the well-being of their people. We hope that the Arabs will not let themselves be dominated by their emotions and will not take part in plans aimed at unleashing a new military confrontation with Israel.

In the Soviet Union, we also certainly hope that, for its part, the Israeli Government will show the necessary restraint and not embark on a path that would result in still greater tension in the Middle East.

Once again, the Soviet Union takes a firm stand in favour of a settlement of the problem of Kuwait on the basis of the resolutions of the United Nations Security Council and in favour of the earliest possible break in the stalemate in other situations of conflict in the Middle East. The peoples of the region must, finally, be able to enjoy peace and live in tranquillity.

NOTE VERBALE DATED 18 JANUARY 1991 FROM THE PERMANENT REPRESENTATIVE OF MONGOLIA TO THE UNITED NATIONS ADDRESSED TO THE SECRETARY-GENERAL

The Permanent Representative of the Mongolian People's Republic to the United Nations presents his compliments to the Secretary-General of the United Nations and has the honour to transmit herewith the Statement of the Government of the Mongolian People's Republic on the situation in the Persian Gulf of 17 January 1991 and requests that the Statement be circulated as a document of the Security Council.

Annex

Statement by the Government of the Mongolian People's Republic

From the very start, the Government of the Mongolian People's Republic resolutely condemned Iraq's armed aggression against and violent annexation of neighbouring Kuwait on 2 August 1990 as an act that goes contrary to the Charter of the United Nations and basic principles of international law and inter-State relations.

All efforts made by States to attain complete withdrawal of Iraqi troops from Kuwait and restoration of its independence and sovereignty by political means, as well as the sanctions imposed in accordance with the United Nations resolutions had failed to achieve any results. Thus, owing to the position of Iraq's present leadership the deadline for peaceful settlement of the conflict set forth by Security Council resolution 678 (1990) had expired. In this condition, the multinational forces, under the provisions of the above-mentioned resolution of the Security Council, started today actions to free Kuwait.

The Government of the Mongolian People's Republic expresses its deep regret that the development of events has led up to an armed conflict, a serious exacerbation of the international situation, the imminent peril of human casualties and enormous material loss. The Mongolian People's Republic, while reaffirming its commitment to peaceful resolution of all disputes, once again voices its support to the United Nations resolutions regarding the settlement of the Persian Gulf crisis.

The Government of the Mongolian People's Republic expresses its hope that military actions aimed at reinstating the independence and sovereignty of Kuwait will not be further escalated, and peace and tranquillity be promptly restored in the Persian Gulf.
